

Ingrid Hoveling

I AM ...

a book lover ... a lover of baking (pies, cookies and cakes) ... a chronic procrastinator ... an avid "Candy Crush" player ... and a tea addict.

My extended family is like a crate of peaches .. some a little hairy, a few rotten spots, some getting a little soft with age ... but mostly pretty sweet. My life is like a basketball, it just keeps bouncing up and down. My teaching career has been more eventful than the Pyeongchang Winter Olympics.

Using my hiking poles to keep me steady on the sometimes gravelly, sometimes rocky, sometimes dirt path I slowly make my way up the switchback trails to the top of the mountain. Green alpine trees line both sides of the trail. Snow capped mountain peaks surround me, the sun shining brightly in the big blue sky. Picturesque waterfalls falls, both small and high, close and near, cascade off the mountains. After hiking upwards for a couple of hours, I reach my destination: a lake. Deep blue water surrounded by a rocky shoreline, little waves rolling towards my feet. The water is cold, crisp and perfect for dipping in my hot feet. Truly majestic.

My Best Qualities:

Patient
Dependable
Thoughtful

My Worst Qualities:

Procrastination
Stubbornness
Too focused
